great southern shopping center on south high down by the Firestone store it's supposed to be nice. I wanna go to a car meet and we'll figured some of us would pop up at this spot and hang out social distance and talk cars loudly at each other so he can hear lol no burn outs or drifting please be respectful to the lot. See Less

Just a page for a group of people looking to hangout, cruise, and whatever else on the weekends. ----- Bring your Car, Truck, Bike, shit whatever has wheels and moves. ----- Dumbasses, excessively loud systems, throwing trash on the floor, and drawing unnecessary attention to the spot will get you taken off the page and asked to leave the lot. While I know we're not police and can't force you anywhere (legally), we have no control over what happens to you or your vehicle after you have made a dumbass of yourself.
